

GETTING READY FOR THE MATCH.

O'Leary Confident that There Will be Good Sport in the Forthcoming Contest.

Bounds of rapid blows from carpenters' hammers filled Madison Square Garden yesterday afternoon. The flooring over the old eighth of a mile track had been torn up, a railing had been taken down, and the hammering at the south western end of the Garden was in course of erection for the men who are to engage in the second O'Leary International belt contest, beginning at midnight Sunday.

Harry O'Leary was overseeing the preparations.

"So Dan, you are going to give another race," said a reporter.

"Yes," replied Dan, "and we'll have a good one this time."

"Where are it?"

"Fourteen first-class racers, George Hough and George Lippert, and their assistants, John Weller, John Hughes, John Sullivan of Saratoga, John Tracy, Dr. Parry, unknown of Boston, Hugh Clegg, unknown of New York, and the two Englishmen, Tom and George Durrer, and P. Dalton.

Dan O'Leary said, "Dan," going to have an extra race on Thursday evening for policemen, firemen, and letter carriers, the first race will be with the police, the second with the firemen, and the third with the letter carriers.
